

Dear Owners of the Adorable Blue House on the Hill,

Your house came on the market the same day we became engaged, and we immediately knew it was exactly what we have been looking for! We fell in love with the unique charm, the details that you held onto from the original home, and the perfect gathering spots to have dinner outside. It felt like it was meant to be!

To introduce ourselves, Tim is an Engineer and Lindsay is a Social Worker. We met when Lindsay was visiting her family. She had moved away to Alaska 12 years ago and didn't think she would ever be back, until meeting Tim and the girls. Soon, we were all together and looking for the perfect spot to call home and grow our family. We quickly fell in love with Indian Mounds Regional Park and the Municipal Forest. It's one of the few places in the cities that reminds Lindsay of Alaska. We are there for the important days – like Lindsay's birthday, hammocking in the April snowstorm – and the regular days, when we just need a walk through the woods. We were there for the goats. We were there last week with Archie, our dog, as he chased a turkey and two deer through the trees. We hope to be there every week for just about forever.

We knew we wouldn't settle for any other neighborhood after a community meeting we attended last week about the park. It was full of so many kind, open-minded and wonderful people! The neighborhood City Council representative introduced herself to us, the neighborhood paper was there taking notes, the community shared input and ideas. We knew this is exactly where we want the kids to grow up.

Have you ever seen a montage in a romantic comedy where all the blissful life scenes go floating by - a couple falling in love, having a baby, laughing while eating dinner on the deck, late nights changing diapers, eating dinner, feet pitter patterring up and down the stairs... that's what we imagine in your house. If you choose our offer, please know that we will take care of this home and love it – for a lifetime.

Thank you so much for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Lindsay, Tim, Cadence, Quinn, & Archie
